DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1/10/2005 has been entered.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

- 2. Claims 1, 13, and 16 are allowed.
- 3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Applicant's certified translation and statement of common ownership of Kwon '140 are sufficient to disqualify Nirmal '664 and Kwon '140 as prior art. Thermal transfer using donor films to form the organic luminescent layers of organic EL devices was known prior to Applicant's filing (See Wolk '088, already of record). Kido (U.S. Patent 5,990,924, col. 10, lines 39-50) teaches that thermal transfer from donor films to make colors for pixels, such as color filters, is advantageously uniform (i.e., the profile is flat) over the entire pixel.

It is also known to provide a flat laser energy profiles by mixing laser beams; see, e.g., Daikuzono (U.S. Patent 5,290,280, col. 5, lines 5-14), Yoshitake et al. (U.S. Patent 4,819,033, col. 3, lines 51-68), and Moulin (U.S. Patent 6,137,631, Fig. 1 and discussion thereof). However, there is no indication in these references that the laser beams have different energy distributions. Accordingly, it is the Examiner's position that the prior art of record does not fairly teach of suggest the formation of the organic luminescent layer of an EL device by scanning a donor film disposed on the EL device substrate with a complex laser beam formed by mixing a plurality of laser beams having different energy distributions.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
